A Portion of Business Center Drive to Close for Construction

Fairfield, California (Thursday, August 19, 2010)—A 1,700-foot portion of Business Center Drive, south of the Mangels Boulevard intersection and leading up to the Copart and Kiewit buildings, will be closed starting August 23. The road will reopen October 27, 2010.

This section of road is being closed to accelerate the construction of the final portion of the four-lane North Connector roadway modifying Business Center Drive to connect directly to Suisun Valley Road.

During the closure, the median break near the Kiewit and Copart buildings will have adequate room to accommodate U-turns. Also, the intersection of Westamerica Drive/ Business Center Drive and Mangels Boulevard will be able to accommodate the east bound to north bound and the south bound to west bound turn movements.

Mangels Boulevard between Westamerica Drive and Suisun Valley Road will continue to be closed and Westamerica Drive will continue to be designated the detour route for access between Suisun Valley Road and Mangels Boulevard, west of the construction.

Once completed, residents accessing the North Cordelia area will no longer need to use Interstate 80.
